Preventing Violence Against Children

The Role of Schools and Related Professionals

Wednesday 12th June 2019
9am - 12.00pm

ISDI School of Design & Innovation, Mumbai
One Indiabulls Centre, Senapati Bapat Marg,
Lower Parel, Mumbai 400013

This essential child protection symposium will:

- Consider the impact of violence on children's behavioural, psychological and cognitive functioning
- Identify indicators of abuse and school-based strategies for supporting children
- Explore the structures, practices and qualities that enable schools to best protect children's rights and justice

This event is open to all but will be of particular relevance to:

- social workers
- teachers/educators
- juvenile justice workers
- students and academics interested in education and child protection

None in Three is a global research centre which develops and evaluates prosocial computer games to prevent gender-based violence. It is based at the University of Huddersfield and funded by the UK Government's Global Challenges Research Fund (through UK Research and Innovation), with satellite offices in Jamaica, Uganda and in India at ISDI School of Design and Innovation, Mumbai. The Centre takes its name from the fact that, according to the World Health Organisation, one in three women and girls are subject to physical or sexual violence in their lifetime. We aim to make this none in three.
