

None in Three is a global research centre using mix methods of research to develop and evaluate prosocial games to prevent gender-based violence.

It is based at the University of Huddersfield and funded by the UK Government's Global Challenges Research Fund, with satellite offices across the world, including at the Indian School of Design and Innovation, Mumbai.

The Centre takes its name from the fact that, according to the World Health Organisation, one in three women and girls are subject to physical or sexual violence in their lifetime.

Our aim is to make that none in three.
